JORGE CABALLERO (PERU) – SATURDAY, SEPT. 26TH, 2015, 7:30 PM

The Seattle Classic Guitar Society has excelled at bringing the best world class concert guitarists to the local stage and this coming season is no exception. Amongst the offerings are two Grammy Award winners, a fabulous guitar duo and the amazing Jorge Caballero for the season opener.

A native of Lima, Peru, Mr. Caballero began his professional training at the National Conservatory in Lima, studying with Oscar Zamora. He later studied in the United States, where he attended the Manhattan School of Music. He is the recipient of top prizes at the Tokyo International Guitar Competition, the Luis Sigall Competition, and the First Latin American Guitar Competition, in addition to the Naumburg, which he won in 1996 at age 19.

Widely regarded as one of the finest guitarists of his generation, Allan Kozzinn of the New York Times called him a “superb young guitarist” and praised his rare combination of “a deft, powerful technique and a soft-spoken interpretive persona.”

Mr. Caballero has performed as a soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, the Orchestra of St. Luke’s, the New York Chamber Symphony, the Naples Philharmonic and the Presidential Symphony of Ankara, Turkey. His recital appearances include performances at New York’s Alice Tully Hall, the Library of Congress in Washington, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco, and the Da Camera Society in Los Angeles. Recent performances include recitals in Portugal, Brazil, Paraguay, Bolivia, Peru and Mexico. Mr. Caballero recorded Antonin Dvorak’s “New World” Symphony transcribed for solo guitar, a work that he is one of only two guitarists in the world to perform. His Musical Heritage CD of Bach Cello Suites, recorded in 2000, was highly praised by critics, drawing comparisons to Casals, Rostropovich and Segovia.

DUO MELIS (SPAIN/GREECE) – SATURDAY, NOV. 14TH, 2015, 7:30 PM

Spanish guitarist Susana Prieto and Greek guitarist Alexis Muzurakis made their debut as Duo Melis in 1999 at the International Guitar Festival of Volos (Greece). Since then they have performed in such prestigious halls as the Berlin Philharmonie, the Concertgebouw in Amsterdam, the Tchaikovsky Hall in Moscow, the Megaron in Athens, and the Merkin Concert Hall in New York. They are in great demand for concerts and master classes at international guitar festivals and prestigious concert series in Europe and America.

They have won numerous prizes, both individually and together. In 1999 they won first prize at the International Guitar Duo Competition of Frechen (Germany). The following year they won the prestigious Guitar Duo Competition of Montelimar (France) as well as the 21st International Guitar Duo Competition “Mauro Giuliani” (Italy). In 2001 they captured the Duo/Ensemble prize at the Chamber Music Competition of Leipzig (Germany) and the same year were the winners at the International Guitar Duo Competition of Paris (France). In 2003 they recorded their first CD after winning the recording prize Citta di Verona at the International Chamber Music Competition “Gaetano Zinetti” (Italy). In 2005 they successfully auditioned for the Yehudi Menuhin Society Live Music Now.

Following their performance at the GFA Convention in 2008, Mark Switzer wrote in Soundboard: “The performance of Duo Melis was one of my favorites of the conference; their playing was technically superb, musically convincing, and demonstrated fantastic ensemble.”

DAVID RUSSELL (SCOTLAND/SPAIN) – SATURDAY, MARCH 5TH, 2016, 7:30 PM

David Russell is a Grammy Award winner for his 2005 CD, Aire Latino, in the category of Best Instrumental Soloist in classical music. In November 2003 he was given the Medal of Honor of the Conservatory of the Balearics and in 2014 he was given an Honorary Doctorate in Music by the University of Arizona in Tucson. Classical guitarist David Russell is world renowned for his superb musicianship and inspired artistry, having earned the highest praise from audiences and critics alike. In recognition of his great talent and his international career, he was named a Fellow of The Royal Academy of Music in London in 1997.

David Russell spends his time touring the world, appearing regularly at prestigious halls in main cities, such as New York, London, Tokyo, Los Angeles, Madrid, Toronto or Rome. Concert-goers everywhere are in awe of his musical genius and inspired by his captivating stage presence. His love of his craft resonates through his flawless and seemingly effortless performance. The attention to detail and provocative lyrical phrasing suggest an innate understanding of what each individual composer was working to achieve, bringing to each piece a sense of adventure.

The New York Times wrote about his performance: “... Mr. Russell made his mastery evident without ever deviating from an approach that places musical values above mere display. It was apparent to the audience throughout the recital that Mr. Russell possesses a talent of extraordinary dimension”.

JASON VIEAUX (USA) – SATURDAY, MAY 14TH, 2016, 7:30 PM

Jason Vieaux won the 2015 Grammy Award for Best Classical Instrumental Solo for his album Play. This was his first Grammy nomination and win.

In 1992 he was awarded the prestigious GFA International Guitar Competition First Prize, the event’s youngest winner ever. He is also honored with a Naumburg Foundation top prize, a Cleveland Institute of Music Alumni Achievement Award, and a Salon di Virtuosi Career Grant. In 1995, Vieaux was an Artistic Ambassador of the U.S. to Southeast Asia.

Jason Vieaux has performed as concerto soloist with nearly 100 orchestras, including Cleveland, Houston, Toronto, San Diego, Ft. Worth, Santa Fe, Charlotte, Buffalo, Grand Rapids, Kitchener-Waterloo, Richmond, Edmonton, IRIS Chamber, Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia, Chautauqua Festival, and New Hampshire Music Festival.

NPR describes Grammy-winning guitarist Jason Vieaux as, “perhaps the most precise and soulful classical guitarist of his generation,” and Gramophone magazine puts him “among the elite of today’s classical guitarists.” In June 2014, NPR named “Zapateado” from the album as one of its “50 Favorite Songs of 2014 (So Far).”

Vieaux continues to bring important repertoire alive in the recording studio as well. He has recorded 11 albums and his latest recording, Together, with harpist Yolanda Kondonassis, was released in January 2015.

KUDOS FOR SCGS!!

SCGS continues to receive very high praise from our visiting concert artists and audience members. Last season after the Amadeus Guitar Duo (Dale Kavanaugh and Thomas Kirchoff) performed on our International Series they wrote to say: "It was the greatest pleasure to play for you in that beautiful sounding hall!! We had a great time with you and also with the students. Everything was so perfectly organized - a true pleasure for us!!!"

Audience members have also shared their positive feedback with us. Recently, on the survey cards handed out at the Thibault Cauvin concert at the Frye Art Museum, an overwhelming majority of the respondents thought the concert was fantastic or exceptional! Here are a few of the comments that attest to the quality of the artists on our concert series and to Thibault in particular: "Fantastic & inspiring!", "Absolutely amazing, fresh interpretations of standards, and amazing techniques...Totally awesome!", "A moment in time beyond description! Best ever!"

If you'd like to continue having special, inspiring concerts, your SCGS memberships, donation dollars and concert ticket sales help SCGS bring the very best guitarists to Seattle and makes it a very desirable destination for them because of the support they receive from you when they perform and teach here. I think it's important to acknowledge that we have set a high standard not only for bringing great artists here to play amazing, inspiring concerts, but also that SCGS and the classical guitar community have created a welcoming and supportive environment that makes Seattle a highlight for many touring guitarists. Thank you SCGS and SCGS members! Keep up the good work! – Jessica Papkoff, Newsletter Editor

TIPS FOR PLAYING AT OPEN MICS

After over a year of hosting the monthly SCGS Open Mic at the Phinney Center, I thought I'd share a few tips and ideas to get the most from your open mic experience. The main reasons for the SCGS classical guitar open mic are: a) to get experience performing for others, b) to share and hear new music c) to meet other people in the Seattle classical guitar community, d) to learn about upcoming concerts and to talk to other people about music, guitars and other classical guitar related topics.

Ideally, one should select music that is already very well-learned, music that you can already play very solidly so that the open mic experience will help you focus on performing since you already know the music quite well. Unless you are an advanced player, it's not recommended that you play something you just started working on or something extremely difficult unless you can already play those things very fluently. I say this is because you want to give yourself the best opportunity to have a positive performance experience and by choosing repertoire you already feel comfortable with you will more likely achieve a positive result.

The open mic is not about competing with others or even getting feedback from others unless you specifically asked someone to come and critique your performance. It's really just about you playing for a small audience and learning to navigate a new environment/situation and to incorporate your experiences and what you learned into your future performances. For example, the room acoustics are different than your practice room, the chairs probably feel different and it's just different playing for people than it is practicing alone. The open mic is an opportunity to practice playing for people in a different place so that you can become more comfortable with that and learn to adapt more quickly to different environments. You may learn that you need to set your footstool to a different height than at home or that your guitar sounds different in a larger room and maybe you need to work on making bigger differences in dynamics or maybe you need to remember to breathe when you perform! :-)

Open mic is also an opportunity to corral your nerves and learn to rein them in when playing in front of people. It's widely known that public speaking is the top fear of most people. Imagine if they had to play a guitar instead of just talking! It's important to remember that people who attend the open mic and who listen to you are there to support you and to get their own performing experience. They want you to have a positive experience. In the grand scheme of things, sometimes it's helpful to think about that fact that we're just humans, playing guitars, in an old classroom that has a great view, in the pretty state of Washington, on planet Earth, revolving around the Sun in our little solar system in our huge beautiful Milky Way galaxy, out amongst billions of other galaxies far far away. Wouldn't it be cool to play guitar for a visitor from another planet? Dealing with nerves while playing is a bit like driving in a big rainstorm. It's another layer of stuff to deal with but with time and experience you'll be able to play just as well in the rain as you do at home! In fact, playing in front of a live audience can often give you the extra energy and focus you need to play your very best!
